Singer's Developmental Repertoire Faculty Biographies

Professor Judith Nicosia is Associate Professor in the Mason Gross school of the Arts at Rutgers University, where she teaches voice, voice pedagogy, and graduate vocal literature classes. She has been an invited clinician at local, regional, and national levels for the National Association of Teachers of Singing and the American Choral Directors Association, and has served as a choral and solo adjudicator for numerous festivals in Canada and the U.S. Formerly a member of the Editorial Board of the Journal of Singing and a regular columnist for VocalEase, she is now Editor for the ACDA Eastern Division newsletter Troubadour. Prof. Nicosia is tickled to be invited back with repertoire for female voices.

Dr. Christopher Arneson is a professional voice trainer and vocologist who works with singers, actors, politicians and public speakers to build powerful, effective voices. In 2003 he joined the voice faculty at Westminster Choir College of Rider University where he teaches Voice, Vocal Pedagogy, Song Literature, Repertoire for Teaching, and Speech for the Singing Actor. Dr. Arneson was formerly the co-director of the Voice and Speech department in the MFA program at the renowned Actors Studio of the New School University in New York. In addition, he taught voice and vocal pedagogy at the Mason Gross School of the Arts at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, New Jersey. Dr. Arneson completed vocology internships at the Grabscheid Voice Center at Mt. Sinai Hospital and the Vox Humana Laboratory at St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital, both in New York, where he continues to collaborate with otolaryngologists and speech-language pathologists in the remediation of voice disorders. He serves on the editorial board of the NATS Journal of Singing.
